eVISIONS

Get timely, accurate information and data through reporting made simple

Evisions Argos delivers the insights you need quickly, in order to make timely, better-informed decisions. It helps colleges and universities work better because it delivers flexible, powerful, easy-to-use reporting tools developed by higher education experts.

Customer Benefits

Empowers you to make timely decisions

Argos makes your job easier. It provides a simpler, quicker way to run reports and visualize data so you can make timely decisions. Argos gets you the data you need, when you need it.

Boost insights

View student, departmental and institutional data in real time. Interactive reports and dashboards illustrate that data, providing insights at a glance and improving visibility throughout your institution.

Reporting in the hands of users

This agile reporting solution streamlines work by fitting seamlessly and intuitively into your workflow. Argos makes it easy for you to access the information you need, and to share data and discoveries.

Give your IT department a break

Argos frees up your IT department. There is no complex development or lengthy installation. Even with countless innovative features, implementation is quick and painless, and the software is easy to modify as your needs change.

Reports at your convenience

View your data anywhere, anytime. When it comes to viewing the data you need, you should not be restricted to a limited window of availability. Access reports and dashboards whenever you need them -and on the device that works best for you.

Enable your team

When people have the right tools for the job, they're happier and more motivated. Argos makes it easier for everyone to collaborate, communicate, and take charge of their work.

Unlimited users means more money saved

Argos increases your reporting efficiency, saving you money along the way. You can add to that savings by not having to worry about increased costs as more reporting users are added – there are none!

Secure reporting and peace of mind

Rest easy knowing your software comes with bullet-proof data protection and security. Additionally, user authentication, direct tie into database security, and AES encryption ensure the security of your reports and reporting process.

More than software – your reporting partner

With Argos, you get more than just an enterprise reporting solution. You get the full backing of the most passionate, friendly, and knowledgeable support and service teams in higher education. Users are supported by:

Expert Assistance

The team behind Argos delivers top-notch service and support you can count on. Evisions HelpDesk and support staff are unequalled in providing excellent support to clients. Evisions Professional Services offerings for Argos are customized to your institution's needs.

User Community

Argos's CO-OP user community brings together higher education professionals with similar reporting responsibilities and experiences. Its online library, containing pre-designed reports and Datablocks, can help you speed up implementation and lower your total cost of ownership.

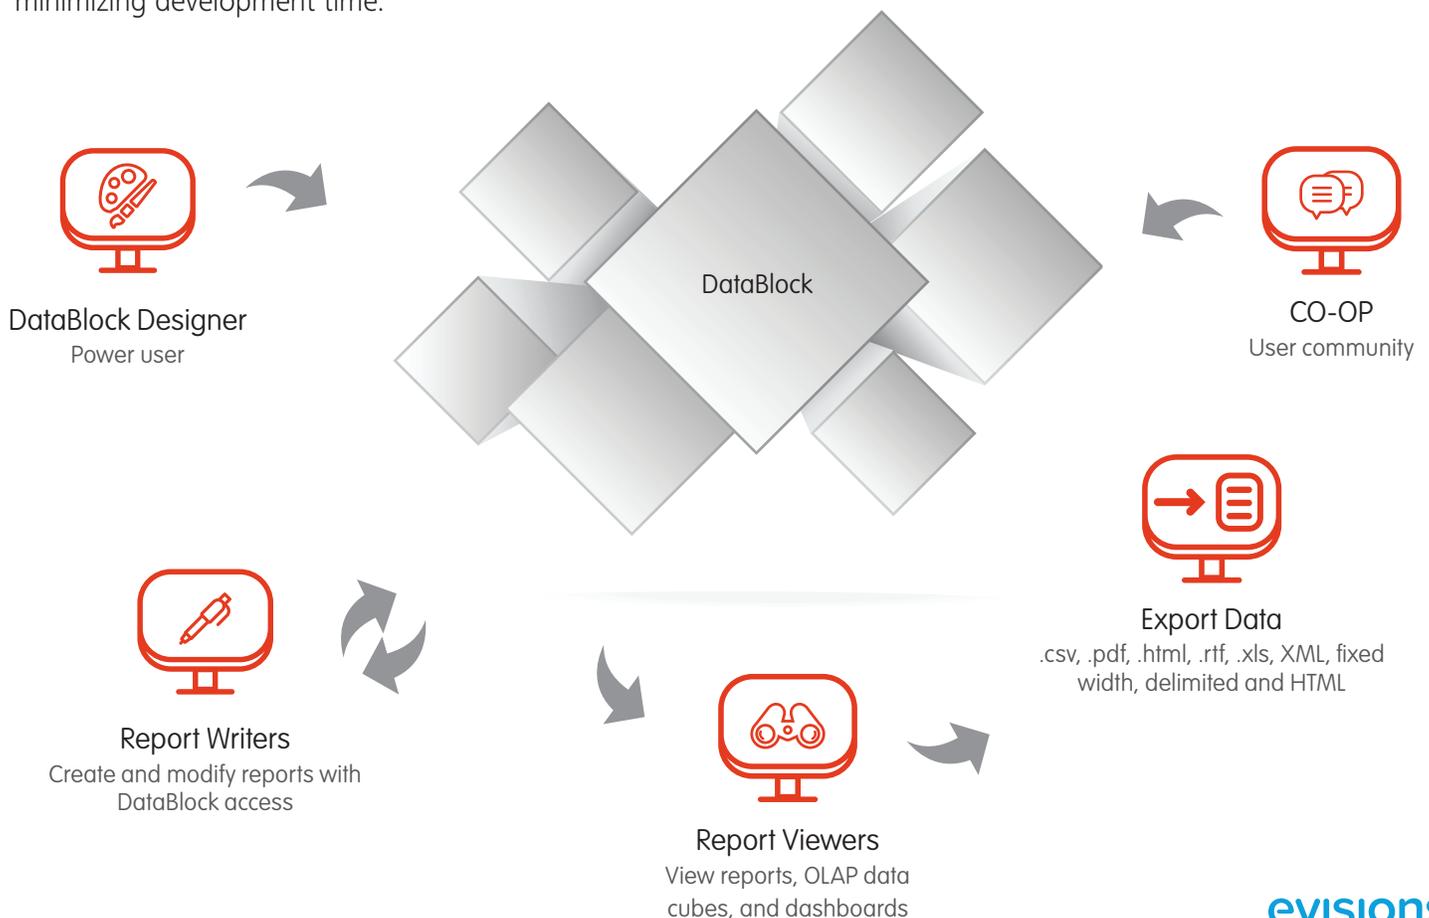

Free Online Live Training

All user types can get up to speed quickly on Argos, with unlimited web-based training from Evisions. Online live classes are offered regularly and are recorded. There is no limit on the number of times users can take advantage of training.

The Power of Argos

Speed up report building and use with DataBlocks. Users can build their own reports using existing DataBlocks and then add their own reordering and filtering to suit their needs. A single DataBlock can fulfill multiple report needs minimizing development time.

Hear what Argos customers are saying...

"Evisions has been incredibly easy to work with. Their professional staff and support staff have been friendly and helpful. When we have had issues, they have been quick to inform us of a current solution or develop new ones. We're just beginning to see the power and versatility of the Argos software. Projects that used to take us 10-15 different reports can now be accomplished in one DataBlock."

Eric Kellerer

*Executive Director of IT
Northwest Nazarene University*

"Argos is the tool of choice. It has immediately changed the way we work, in that it has consolidated data so staff don't have to do hours of compilation any longer, and everybody's looking at the same information."

Jessica Ashbrook

*Business Analyst, Financial Aid Office
Lansing Community College*

"Evisions' Argos is by far one of the best products Jacksonville University has purchased and implemented. The installation of the product took less than fifteen minutes and allowed us to start migrating reports instantly. Furthermore, the unlimited licenses, ease of use, free training, free upgrade model and fantastic support make Evisions a truly unique company. When it comes to reporting, Argos was the best decision we have ever made."

Christian Block

*Director of Information Services & IT
Jacksonville University*

"I love the CO-OP. I've downloaded other schools' reports and letters and then modified them to meet my needs. It has saved a tremendous amount of time."

Kim Nash-Yore

*District Director of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships
Cuyahoga Community College*

"Argos has so many features and so much flexibility that it allows users to get real information faster than ever before. We originally bought Argos so we could 'do' reports. We quickly learned that it is so much more than just a reporting tool."

Amy Scism

*Database Administrator
Rockhurst University*
